HUMAN-CENTRED LEADERSHIP TOPICS

Engaging and challenging, yet fresh and inspirational content.

The following topics are based on half-day session length and can be extended or shorted based on your requirement. Please note that because we tailor our training to the audience, the facilitator might occasionally deviate from the stipulated topics and include concepts that are more relevant to the participants.

Session title: Unlocking emotional intelligence
Embrace the HEART-beat of human connection to thrive and succeed.

Session outline:

The ability to recognise and master our emotions is a crucial factor in our success to build positive relationships with others - and ourselves. And a heightened Emotional Quotient will enable us to feel resilient and capable of securing positive outcomes even from challenging situations.

This engaging session, led by Martin Probst, a leading expert in human-centred leadership, delves into the core principles of EI, enhancing your capacity to understand, manage, and harness emotions effectively. You will walk away with powerful mental and emotional management techniques designed to contribute to better decision-making and improved team dynamics.

Topics*:

- Understanding the foundation of EI
- Connecting with your inner CEO
- Improving mental and emotional self-mastery

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title: Developing inner strength and resilience
Cope and thrive in the face of challenges

Session overview:

Resilience is key to thriving amidst change and challenges. By developing personal resilience, we can not only better cope but also thrive in the face of adversity, maintaining both productivity and wellbeing.

This interactive session, led by Martin Probst, a leading expert in human-centred leadership, is designed to empower and inspire you to maximise your own level of resilience required to respond positively to the pressures and demands in your personal and professional environment. You will acquire practical insights and empowering strategies to not only navigate challenges but to emerge stronger, more adaptable, and ready to conquer any obstacle.

Topics*:

- The power of focus
- Thinking, feeling and doing well
- What's in your control? - What's not?

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Boosting personal effectiveness

Embrace smart productivity hacks

Session overview:

We are often obsessed with time and get distracted by the whirlwind of daily tasks, which by the end of the workday may make us wonder what we actually achieved. Personal effectiveness is about knowing when and where to direct efforts to achieve fruitful outcomes.

In this engaging session, led by expert facilitator Martin Probst, you will learn how to reduce interruptions and optimise your day by using a variety of productivity hacks that can make all the difference. These techniques are easy to learn and can help you work smarter, not harder.

Topics*:

- Prioritising like a pro
- Utilising the power of focus
- Learning to run the day (so it won't run you)

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Enhancing interpersonal skills with DISC

Improve connections, communication and collaboration

Session overview:

DISC is a highly beneficial tool to assist us in recognising differences between people. It helps us understand ourselves and others better. By accepting, respecting, and adapting to these differences, we can build long-term relationships and positive influence.

You will complete a self-evaluation survey in the lead-up to the training, an important element to learn more about your own personality traits and spot behavioural preferences in others. You will walk away from this interactive group session, designed by expert facilitator Martin Probst, with the knowledge of how to recognise other people's behavioural patterns so you can modify your communication to achieve win/win outcomes.

Topics*:

- Unpacking the four DISC styles
- Creating a deeper understanding of self
- Adaptability to others' style for maximum impact

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Dealing with challenging behaviours

Promote a mindset shift through positive influence

Session overview:

Difficult behaviours can have an enormous negative impact on organisations and day-to-day operations, destroy long-term business relationships, as well severely affect individuals on a physical, mental and emotional level.

In this interactive session, led by Martin Probst, a leading expert in human-centred leadership, you will discover behavioural solutions and unpack how to positively influence and inspire self and others to prevent behavioural issues and thus strengthen relationships and enhance productivity.

Topics*:

- Understanding the origins of human behaviours
- Influencing positive behaviours
- Preventing behavioural issues

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Mastering effective communication

Get the message across with positive impact

Session overview:

Even though we communicate all day long, communication is not as simple as it seems and what we say can easily be misunderstood. Therefore, effective communication is about the response we get.

This interactive session, designed by expert facilitator Martin Probst, will equip you with powerful techniques to manage self-talk more effectively. You will also acquire the tools for clear, confident, and concise communication, and learn how to get your message across with positive impact.

Topics*:

- Managing self-talk effectively
- Speaking the other person's language
- Communicating with positive impact

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Facilitating crucial conversations

Turn difficult situations into productive outcomes

Session overview:

Sometimes we choose to avoid difficult conversations as they seem too hard, but unfortunately the problems remain unresolved. Other times we facilitate crucial conversations and wish we knew how to handle them better. Here's the upside: there are well-tested communication strategies to swiftly turn dysfunctional situations into constructive conversations.

This engaging session, designed by expert facilitator Martin Probst, is a great opportunity to learn how to guide and influence productive outcomes from difficult situations through a better understanding of human behaviours and with simple yet effective and powerful communication strategies.

Topics*:

- Overcoming conversation reluctance
- Understanding what makes us tick
- Confidently leading conversations for win/win outcomes

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Managing conflict with confidence

Navigate challenging situations successfully

Session overview:

Positive relationships and win/win outcomes are critical success contributors, and a range of conflicts can easily interrupt this. We must acquire the expertise and confidence to manage our emotional state effectively while in the heat of the moment to avoid negative effects on our wellbeing, morale and productivity.

This engaging session, led by Martin Probst, a leading expert in human-centred leadership, is designed to equip you with a deep understanding of what is driving conflict and how to achieve positive outcomes when dealing with employees, colleagues, managers or any other people you regularly interact with. You will acquire well-tested strategies to identify, deal with and resolve conflicts skilfully and more confidently.

Topics*:

- What causes conflict
- How to identify and handle conflict
- Resolving conflict with confidence

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Empowering others to perform and excel Create a human-centred culture and drive performance

Session overview:

Great leaders inspire great teams. And great teams require a culture of employees being independent and motivated individuals, performing interdependently within their team and forming key collaborations for long-term success.

This powerful session, led by expert facilitator Martin Probst, is designed to equip you with tools and strategies to create a human-centred culture and assist individuals to perform at their best. You will acquire the techniques and skills to empower individuals and teams to drive organisational performance and foster strong collaboration.

Topics*:

- Embracing human-centred leadership
- Driving performance through empowerment
- Fostering strong collaboration

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Delivering productive feedback Foster a culture of growth through feedback mastery

Session overview:

We are all familiar with the process of receiving and giving feedback but often lack the tools to make it a graceful, constructive, and positive experience. Feedback can be challenging to deliver, but when handled effectively, it fosters growth and contributes to a positive work environment.

In this engaging workshop, award-winning facilitator Martin Probst will provide you with the skills to confidently lead feedback conversations while minimising push-backs by establishing a feedback-ready culture. You will leave with powerful feedback techniques designed to promote growth and development in yourself and others.

Topics*:

- Receiving (un)constructive feedback
- Creating a feedback-ready culture
- Delivering clear and motivating feedback

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Presenting with intent and impact

Become confident, speak up and be heard

Session overview:

Many of us struggle with public speaking or addressing even small groups. However, the ability to assertively communicate and maintain professional credibility can significantly influence our success. Overcoming nerves, connecting with the audience, and delivering a message with confidence are essential skills in today's professional environment.

This interactive session, facilitated by expert speaker Martin Probst, will equip you with the tools needed to enhance your professional presence, deliver assertive verbal and non-verbal communication, and engage your audience by leveraging your personal power.

Topics*:

- Managing the fear of speaking in front of people
- Connecting and engaging with your audience
- Delivering a powerful message without notes

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Coaching and mentoring for growth

Guide, support, and empower future leaders

Session overview:

In today's competitive employment market, effective coaching and mentoring skills for leaders, managers, and supervisors are essential. By facilitating meaningful, purpose-driven conversations, leaders can foster individual growth, enhance team performance, and cultivate a supportive workplace environment. This not only increases staff retention but also assists in unlocking the full potential of individuals and teams.

In this engaging workshop, award-winning facilitator Martin Probst will equip you with the essential tools and strategies to confidently coach, mentor, and guide others toward long-term success, building a strong foundation for future leadership.

Topics*:

- Setting the stage for meaningful conversations
- Coaching & mentoring with clarity using the GROW Model
- Driving ongoing results through commitment and follow-up

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Providing outstanding customer service

Exceed customer expectations and deliver excellence

Session overview:

Customer service is the backbone of long-term business success, extending beyond financial transactions to strengthen both reputation and client relationships. Building trust and rapport, fulfilling client needs, and providing a memorable experience in every interaction are key to exceeding expectations.

This engaging session, led by award-winning facilitator Martin Probst, equips you with strategies to manage client expectations, deliver five-star service, and handle complaints professionally. You'll learn how to ensure productive outcomes in all situations while building and maintaining strong customer relationships.

Topics*:

- Delivering excellence in service and customer care
- Resolving challenges and strengthening loyalty
- Creating a holistic and memorable experience

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Becoming change agile

Create certainty in times of uncertainty

Session overview:

In today's fast-paced world, change is constant and often unpredictable. Developing change agility empowers individuals to adapt with confidence, stay grounded under pressure, and thrive in evolving environments.

In this dynamic session, led by award-winning facilitator Martin Probst, you will learn to manage your energy more sustainably for emotional steadiness, and adopt new ways of thinking to thrive in uncertain environments. You'll walk away with greater clarity and practical tools to stay grounded, focused, and future-ready - no matter what changes come your way.

Topics*:

- Releasing the familiar to embrace possibilities
- Cultivating a growth mindset for lifelong success
- Managing your energy - sustainably

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Getting clarity on the vision, mission and values Create a clear organisational vision, backed by definite plans

Session overview:

A compelling vision, mission, and set of values form the foundation of a strong, purpose-driven organisation. Yet, without clarity and alignment, even the best strategies can fall flat.

In this strategic session, award-winning facilitator Martin Probst will guide your leadership team to define and align around a shared organisational identity. Together, you'll craft a meaningful vision, articulate a clear mission, and identify core values that inspire action. The session also equips participants with practical tools to translate that vision into measurable goals and break those goals into actionable steps - ensuring clarity, commitment, and momentum toward long-term success.

Topics*:

- Shaping our identity [vision, mission & values]
- Breaking down vision into goals
- Breaking down goals into action steps

Recommended length: Full day

Session title:

Driving organisational performance Cultivate a strong culture, team, and execution

Session overview:

This workshop is an ideal follow up session from 'Getting clarity on the vision, mission and values'. It focuses on reflecting on the process so far: what worked and what didn't. It is also an opportunity to dive deeper into strategies that drive organisational performance towards our common purpose, vision, and goals.

This session, led by award-winning facilitator Martin Probst, is designed to assess progress and determine the necessary next steps for further advancement. Working through a comprehensive organisational health check, you will have the opportunity to reflect on and refine strategies, as well as cultivate a stronger culture and improved team execution.

Topics*:

- Establishing a human-centred culture
- Developing high-performing teams
- Executing with focus and continuous improvement

Recommended length: Full day

Session title:

Leading successful change

Foster team support for lasting impact

Session overview:

Change is inevitable - and leading a team through it requires intention, clarity, and confidence. This dynamic workshop empowers leaders to understand both the psychological and operational aspects of change, enabling them to support their teams through uncertainty with steadiness and purpose.

In this engaging session, led by award-winning facilitator Martin Probst, you will explore strategies for accepting change, establishing a strong foundation by addressing the human side of transition, and applying the key building blocks for lasting success. You'll learn how to guide and influence others through change by offering the clarity, tools, and leadership presence needed to create meaningful and sustained impact.

Topics*:

- Accepting change
- Establishing a strong foundation
- Building blocks of successful change

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Moving from stress to strength

Ditch the overwhelm and step forward with confidence

Session overview:

Stress has become one of the greatest challenges in today's fast-paced and ever-changing world. Pressure can be a powerful motivator when managed well. But left unchecked, it drains our energy, creates job dissatisfaction, impacts our wellbeing, and affects how we show up at work and in life.

The good news? With the right tools and strategies, you can shift from reactive stress responses to intentional, grounded strength. In this practical and insightful session, Martin Probst, a leading expert in human-centred leadership, guides you to identify your personal stress triggers, manage unhelpful thinking, and build inner strength and confidence to thrive under pressure

Topics*:

- Understanding stress and its origins
- Finding work, life, and wellbeing balance
- Claiming control and practising self-care

Recommended length: Half-day

* Because we promise to fully tailor our training to the audience, the facilitator might occasionally deviate from the stipulated topics and include concepts that are more relevant to the participants.

Session title:

Adopting mindful living and working

Step back to step up your wellbeing and effectiveness

Session overview:

Uncover how living in the moment builds a richer and more meaningful life, career, and relationships. Explore how to be more present and purposeful in your decisions and actions, rather than reactive or on autopilot.

In this interactive session, led by Martin Probst, a leading expert in human-centred leadership, we will explore how 'stepping back' and 'stepping into' experiences can open your mind to curiosity, creativity, and effectiveness.

Topics*:

- Shifting from autopilot to awareness
- Reclaiming your mental and emotional wellbeing
- Living and working with mindful intention

Recommended length: Half-day

Session title:

Embracing the art of networking

Build powerful connections for long-term success
